In Colombia we do not have information on current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The bars reflect whether individuals are diagnosed and whether they are meeting treatment targets.

In Iran we do not have information on previous diagnosis or current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The height of the bar represents prevalence of high cholesterol among individuals with diabetes.

*In Colombia we do not have information on current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The bars reflect whether individuals are diagnosed and whether they are meeting treatment targets.

 In Iran we do not have information on previous diagnosis or current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The height of the bar represents prevalence of high cholesterol among individuals with diabetes.