Health and wellness insights

Philippines

Life satisfaction
69.3%
Of respondents in the Philippines are satisfied or very satisfied with life.

Food insecurity
29.6%
Of respondents in the Philippines sometimes or often don’t have enough to eat.

Delayed health care
70.3%
Of respondents in the Philippines with health conditions could not receive care in the last six months.

Vaccines

Vaccine confidence
Are vaccines safe, effective, important for children and adults, and compatible with your personal beliefs?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Yes</th>
<th>Sometimes</th>
<th>No</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Effective</td>
<td>57.2%</td>
<td>35.6%</td>
<td>7.2%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Safe</td>
<td>57.7%</td>
<td>36.3%</td>
<td>6.3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Important for children</td>
<td>60.8%</td>
<td>28.9%</td>
<td>10.3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Important for adults</td>
<td>60.5%</td>
<td>28.9%</td>
<td>10.3%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A bar graph showing the percentage of people in the Philippines who said yes, sometimes, or no to whether vaccines are safe, effective, important for children and adults, and compatible with personal beliefs. Data are from the Pandemic Recovery Survey. For more information, visit www.healthdata.org/node/10700.

Income

Changes in income by gender.
Proportion of respondents by gender who reported having lower income now than before the pandemic.

A bar graph showing the proportion of female and male respondents who reported lower income now than before the pandemic. There were not enough responses from respondents who identified as non-binary to report in this bar graph. Data are from the Pandemic Recovery Survey. For more information, visit www.healthdata.org/node/10700.

Education

Decrease in academic skill by student gender.
Proportion of students who experienced lower than expected math skills.

A bar graph showing the proportion of students by gender who experienced lower than expected math skills. Data are from the Pandemic Recovery Survey. For more information, visit www.healthdata.org/node/10700.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

FINDINGS FROM THE PANDEMIC RECOVERY SURVEY

Specifies the findings that have been collected from the Pandemic Recovery Survey.

Health professionals
Health and wellness insights

Philippines

FINDINGS FROM THE PANDEMIC RECOVERY SURVEY

Health professionals consider health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.

Reasons for delayed care
The most common reason for not receiving care was inability to pay (8.6%) followed by fear of being infected with COVID-19.

Trust
People in the Philippines considered health professionals the most trustworthy and considered community leaders the least trustworthy.

Survey size
Over 621,000 responses from 21 countries, with 38,977 responses from the Philippines.