

Embed GBD COMPARE visualizations on your website

Some IHME visualizations and interactive charts have the option to be embedded in another website. Embedding a visualization allows a customized subset of the chart to be displayed on the page of another site.

When embedding a GBD Compare visualization on your website, use the embeddable versions. They have been optimized to require less space on the screen.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR EMBEDDING CHARTS AND CITING IHME

- 1) Open the GBD Compare visualization here: <http://vizhub.healthdata.org/gbd-compare/>.
- 2) Open the embeddable version of the visualization you'd like to embed here:

	Map – http://vizhub.healthdata.org/gbd-compare/embed:map
	Treemap – http://vizhub.healthdata.org/gbd-compare/embed:treemap

- 3) Customize the visualization to the settings and display you want to embed. Customizable options include:
 - Display
 - Metric
 - Age
 - Sex
 - Units
 - Scale
 - Range
 - Rate of Change
 - Detail
 - Center/Zoom (Map view only)
- 4) Select the "Share" button on upper right of the screen. The link that appears contains the link to your customized visualization.
- 5) Copy the link (Figure 2).

- 6) Paste your copied visualization link into the "[INSERT YOUR URL HERE]" quotation space of the text below:

<iframe src="[INSERT YOUR URL HERE]" scrolling="no" style="border: 0; width: 850px; height: 720px;">
```

NOTE: Make sure your pasted link covers all the text between the quotes without overwriting them. The final result should look like this example:

```
<iframe src="http://ihmeuw.org/3qez" scrolling="no" style="border: 0; width: 850px; height: 720px;">
```

- 7) Place the code into your web page along with this citation:
