

Proportion of people with diabetes in seven countries who are diagnosed and effectively treated for high cholesterol

*In Colombia we do not have information on current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The bars reflect whether individuals are diagnosed and whether they are meeting treatment targets.

** In Iran we do not have information on previous diagnosis or current use of cholesterol-lowering medication. The height of the bar represents prevalence of high cholesterol among individuals with diabetes.